AMERICA TIGHTENS GRIP ON OLYMPIAD

step quick enough to overcome the handicap of his shorter stride. The time was 31 minutes 20 seconds. Kolehmainen's compatriot Stenroos, finished third. Tewanina was 300 yards behind Kolehmainen at the finish. The Canadian Joseph Keefer, finished fourth. The English long distance runner, Hugh Scott, the North Attleboro runner, Hugh F. Maguire, and Louis Scott, of the United States, ran themselves out early in the race.

Kolehmainen led from the start, while Tewanina was a close second for more than a mile. The tall, blonde Finlander and the little Indian dogging his heels were the only ones ever in the race. After a mile Kolehmainen gradually grew out with his far longer stride.

In the final of the four events the United States scored 15 of the 24 points. In the other competitions they were less fortunate. The American team, Courtney, Belote, Wilson and Cooke, practically owned the 400-metre relay race, but misfortune overtook them.

In the semi-final heat the United States team after beating Great Britain in the best time of the day—42 1-5 seconds—was disqualified for changing the relay stick or baton outside of bounds. The fuke occurred when F. V. Belote, of the Chicago Athletic Association, passed to Clement P. Wilson, of Coe College, on the second relay. Carl C. Cooke, of the Cleveland Athletic Club, led the Englishman, W. H. Applegarth, by ten feet at the finish. Owing to the disqualification of the Americans the British team replaces them in the final heat.

In the other semi-final heat of the 400-metre relay race between Germany and Canada, R. Rau, Germany, finished five yards ahead of J. A. Howard, Manitoba, Canada.

The United States failed to shine in the 10,000-metre walk. Frederick H. Kaiser, of the New York Athletic Club, who finished fifth in the second heat, being the only American left for the final. Four of the ten listed were British, with the Canadian, George Goulding, who captured the first heat handily, and Norman, of South Africa, also representing the United Kingdom.

The two United States representatives, Fred Kaiser, New York Athletic Club, and Alfred Voelmeke, Pastime Athletic Club, were placed fifth and sixth, respectively, but only the first named qualified for the final. The American walkers were more than a lap behind the winner at the finish.

R. Bridge, England, was disqualified in the tenth lap of the second heat of the 10,000-metre walk when he was leading the field.

That the English held their old place in walking was the only consolation the day afforded Britishers. England was not represented in the final of the 800-metre run, while the Englishmen were the first to drop out in the 10,000-metre run and the high jump, which covered the English spectators with gloom. The climax came when the giants of the Stockholm police force pulled over the supposedly invincible London bobbies in the tug-of-war.

The Germans in the grandstand, who have appropriated the American style of concerted cheering, made a great noise in encouraging their countrymen—Liesche in the high jump and Braun in the 800-metre run.

The final heat of the 800-metre flat race was a wonderful sight. The eight runners were not twenty feet apart at the finish. Hans Braun, of Germany, made a desperate attempt in the stretch, the large German contingent among the spectators shouting his name frantically, but he stopped exhausted within two yards of the tape. When the three American flags were hoisted great cheers were raised all over the stadium, which were repeated when the world's record time established by Meredith was announced.

The tug-of-war team of the giant Stockholm policemen defeated the London police by two pulls, lasting, respectively, six and two minutes. The majority of the Englishmen were the same as those who dragged the Americans off their feet so easily at the Olympic games in London in 1908. The Swedes were greatly rejoiced over their victory, while the British complained that their opponents sat on the ground.

Nineteen athletes of various nationalities competed in the morning for the standing broad jump. Among them were four representatives of the United States. Of these Platt Adams, of the New York Athletic Club, captured second place, with a jump of 3 metres 35 centimetres, and Benjamin W. Adams, of the same club, third place, with 3 metres 28 centimetres. Leo Goehring, of the Mohawk Athletic Club, tied with a Swedish competitor for fifth place, with 3 metres 14 centimetres. R. L. Byrd, of Adrian College, was eighth, with 3 metres 12 centimetres. Maranda, of Canada, was seventeenth, with 2 metres 98 centimetres. C. Thichteras, of Greece, won with a jump of 3 metres 37 centimetres, or slightly over 11 feet.

In the first heat of the 10,000-metre walk George Goulding, of Ontario, Canada, and E. J. Webb, of England, led from start to finish. The two American competitors, Edmund Renz, of the Mohawk Athletic Club, and Samuel Schwartz, of New York City, unfortunately, were outclassed. Goulding won by 50 yards. The first five in each heat of the event qualified to walk in the final heat.

In the 400-metre relay race the majority of the teams were scratched in the preliminary heats, consequently the United States, Canada, Great Britain and Sweden had walkovers, owing to the absence of the opponents who had been drawn against them.

To Repeat Swimming Heats.

The semi-final heats of the 100-metre swim are to be contested again, with the United States representatives participating. The American delegation protested against yesterday's race on the ground that the absence of American swimmers was due to a misunderstanding, and the Olympic committee met this morning and decided that the

Meredith's Quick Rise to Fame on the Track

Schoolboy Athletic Wonder Now Only Nineteen Years Old.

UNDEFEATED THIS SEASON

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.)

Philadelphia, July 8.—James Edward Meredith, who won the 500-metre run at the Olympic games to-day in world's record time, is only nineteen years of age, and his home is in Media, Penn., where his father is a contractor. Ted, as he is known by the athletes, spent a couple of terms at the Williamson Trade School learning bricklaying and in the mean time ran some races for the Aquinas Catholic Club, of this city.

Then he went to Mercersburg Academy. Since entering the upstate institution and having the benefit of James Curran's coaching, Meredith has improved wonderfully, until to-day he defeated the world's best.

Meredith did not meet defeat during the entire season. Every Saturday, beginning with the first week in March, the Mercersburg Academy team engaged in a scholastic meet, and Meredith always ran the 400 and 800 yards, and every now and then took a flyer at the 220 yards. Even at that, little attention was paid to him until the sensational performance he contributed in the last quarter-mile of the scholastic relay championship at Franklin Field, when running for Mercersburg. He heats should be repeated probably at the end of the meeting.

Otto Wahnle, who is managing the swimming team, declares that the directorate of the meeting informed him that the semi-final heats would be abandoned last night because only seven swimmers were left to compete. It was for this reason that the American swimmers were absent.

There is considerable feeling on the part of the German team over the ruling. Their champion, Bretting, took the heat last night in the semi-finals, and the Germans considered it was their victory. They think the manager of the American swimming team was careless in failing to have his men ready and that his protest was not justified.

The meeting of the jury which decided that the heats should be repeated was held in the Riksdag Building. Hungary moved and Belgium seconded that the semi-finals be contested again. The United States, Germany and Australia, whose men are engaged in the contest, are to decide on the date. The American juryman decline to say whether the vote was unanimous.

The Marathon runners are training hard for next Sunday's struggle. Johnny Hayes, who won the London Marathon and who has the Americans under his care, considers that Kolehmainen, brother of the winner of the 10,000-metre run to-day; Corkery, of Canada, and Githman, of South Africa, are the most dangerous rivals for the Americans. The course is rather rough and is laid over the hills. Hayes says that it is like American country roads, and he expects record smashing if the day is cool.

The United States has passed Sweden in the matter of total points scored, including all fixtures, the figures being: United States, 38; France, 17; Africa, 13; Germany, 12; Denmark, 9; Finland, 4; Greece, 3; Norway, 2.

In the springboard diving competitions R. M. Zimmerman, Quebec, won second place in his trial heat. G. W. Gaidick, Chicago Athletic Association, and Arthur McAlenau, New York Athletic Club, were third in their respective heats. All qualified for the finals.

The summaries follow:
500-metre run—Won by A. W. Richards, Mercersburg Academy (time, 1:21.4-10). Melvin W. Sheppard, Irish-American A. C., second (time, 1:22); Ira N. Davenport, Chicago A. C., third (time, 1:22).
Running high jump—Won by A. W. Richards, Mercersburg Academy (height, 6 ft. 3 in.).
Modern pentathlon (100-metre swimming, free style)—Hors, England, 4:42; Lieutenant George S. Patton, Jr., America, 5:25.
10,000-metre run—Won by Kolehmainen, Fin-made the two furlongs over a track heavy with water in 24:5 seconds, and gave Mercersburg a new record for the race.

Curran was preparing Meredith for a great smashing of records at the Middle States championships on Franklin Field, but Meredith refused to form more quickly than Curran expected, and at the Princeton scholastic games ran 440 yards in 49 1-5 seconds, three-fifths of a second faster than ever before run by an American schoolboy. Twenty-five minutes later he came out and ran 80 yards, and the slowest of four watches gave him 1 minute 55 1-5 seconds, which was only three seconds slower than Loughie's world's record and three seconds faster than the time in which any other schoolboy in the world had ever run half a mile.

At Cornell Meredith ran the half-mile in 1 minute 57 seconds after covering the first quarter in 52 seconds. He got so far ahead that he slowed up 220 yards from home. He had the world's record at his mercy that afternoon if he had cared to go after it. Later he ran a quarter of a mile in the Middle States championship games in 44 1-5 seconds, the same time that John R. Taylor made on the track, and came back with 1:54 for the half-mile.

It was not the easiest thing for Meredith to be selected on the American Olympic team, with all this. There were quite a number of men on the Olympic selection committee who were of the opinion that Meredith was too young and that he would "blow up" when he got in the Olympic meet.

George F. Pawling, representing the Middle Atlantic Association of the American Athletic Union on the committee, championed Meredith's cause and finally won the rest of the committee over to his way of thinking.

Third heat—Luisson, Germany, 6:49; Courtel, Belgium, 6:52; Stenroos, Sweden, 6:52; Modern pentathlon (100-metre swimming, free style)—Hors, England, 4:42; Lieutenant George S. Patton, Jr., America, 5:25.

RICHARDS HAD HIS DOWNS

Two Years Ago He Failed to Score a Point in Track Meet.

Provo, Utah, July 8.—Alma Richards, who won the running high jump at Stockholm to-day, breaking the Olympic record, is twenty-one years of age. He was born in Utah and has been a student at the Brigham Young University here for four years. Two years ago he failed to score at the track meet. The following spring he won every event in which he entered.

BIG MONEY FOR WOLGAST

Tom O'Day Offers Him $32,500 for a Bout with McFarland.

Los Angeles, July 8.—Tom O'Day has telegraphed to Ad Wolgast offering $32,500 for a fight between the champion and "Pac-Man" MacFarland on Labor Day.

Wolgast also has received offers from two different fight clubs in Sacramento for a fight with Rivers in Sacramento on Labor Day. Each club offers $20,000.

AN AUTO TRACK FOR TACOMA.

Tacoma, Wash., July 8.—Encouraged by the financial success of the Tacoma road automobile races, the automobile men of this city are to form a permanent racing organization and to utilize the profits of this year's meet as the nucleus of a fund for the construction of a permanent brick track to be constructed near the site of the present temporary track.

"CHICK" EVANS ON HIS GAME.

Chicago, July 8.—Charles Evans, Jr., lowered the course record for eighteen holes at the Chicago Golf Club yesterday. By playing steady and consistent golf Evans turned in a card of 63, one stroke under the previous record, held by Walter J. Travis.

GOLFERS OUT FOR TITLE

Amateurs to Vie with Professionals on Apawamis Links.

MANY STARS ARE ENTERED

Metropolitan Open Championship Tournament to Begin To-morrow.

Professionals from the Philadelphia and Boston districts, along with a sprinkling of amateurs, have entered for the seventh open championship tournament of the Metropolitan Golf Association, to be held over the links of the Apawamis Club to-morrow and Thursday. From Brookline the redoubtable "Nipper" Campbell will be on hand to show his wares, and the committee has paired him with Alec Smith, of Wyckoff. They are being to start second, the Philadelphia, who got in the money a year ago, will tee up at 10 in company with Grin Terry, of Canoe Brook. Gil Nichols, the Wilmington "pro," who won the title at Englewood a year ago, is bracketed with Dave Hiner, of Essex County. The amateur delegation consists of Fred Herresford, representing the National Links; Oswald Kirkby, of Englewood, the New Jersey champion; Gardner W. White, of Oakland; James D. Foot and W. R. Thurston, of Apawamis, and C. E. Van Vleet, Jr., of Baltimore.

The usual medal play conditions will prevail, thirty-six holes to-morrow and a like number on Thursday.

The entries and starting times follow:
8. Robert Andrew, New Haven, and F. Butler, Briarcliff; 9. Alexander Smith, Wyckoff, and Alexander Campbell, Brookline; 10. James D. Foot, Apawamis, and Nick Le, of Essex; 11. Fred Herresford, National, and John Dowling, Scarsdale; 12. Van Vleet, Jr., Baltimore, and Oswald Kirkby, Englewood, and Tom McCann, Boston; 13. E. W. Lucas, Gardner White, Philadelphia, and Fred Herresford, National; 14. George F. Sparling, Brookline, and Isaac S. Mackie, Fox Hills; 15. James R. Hunter, Essex County; 16. Frank Peebles, unattached, and Jack Jolly, Newark; 17. Gilbert E. Nichols, Wilmington, and David S. Hunter, Essex County; 18. Martin J. C. Loughlin, Plainfield, and "Gardner" W. White, Englewood; 19. George Low, Baltimore, and Herbert Strick, Inwood; 20. Ernest Killick, West Burn, and L. Bates, Sleepy Hollow; 21. Harold L. Downey, Apawamis, and W. P. Greene, Rumsen.

Amateurs.

Golfers preparing for the Metropolitan open at Apawamis made it evident yesterday that the course record of 62, recently hung up by W. R. Thurston, of the home club, is in danger of being lowered at no distant date. Fred McLeod, the St. Louis "pro," who had never seen the links before, went out in 34 and back in 37 for a 71, figures that were duplicated by Tom McCann, the Boston home bred, the latter's halves being 36 and 35.

The sensational feat of the day went to the credit of Herbert Strong, the former Apawamis professional, who made the 360-yard fifteenth hole in 2. With the ground in its present baked-out condition the long drivers are getting well past the mounds, and it was from such a position on the slope that Strong holed a mashie shot. Cheating par two strokes there enabled Strong to make the round in 75, 36 each way. McLeod made his fine score while playing in a four-ball match with George Low against Alec Smith and Jerome D. Travers. Smith had a 73. Another good score was returned by Jack Jolly, the Newark representative getting around in 72. Both Isaac Mackie and Joe Mitchell had rounds in 74 and Jack Hobens got a 75.

Although Hobens, McLeod and George Sargent are not entered on the official list, they expect to play in the championship. Quite a number have also arranged to compete in the four-ball competition there to-day. Travers took some one after he finished his round yesterday, however, that he did not intend to take part in the four-ball.

Both men and women members of the Hudson Country Club have been competing in the club championships of late, with the result that in the final round for the title John W. Gillette, Jr., of Williams College, defeated Charles Eesselstin 3 up and 2 to play, while in the women's division Miss Mary T. L. Rice, of Smith College, defeated Mrs. D. H. Bradley, 5 up and 4 to play.

A summer tournament will occupy the attention of the Wyckoff Country Club members for the remainder of July. The first round of match play will be run-off next Saturday, with the second, semi-final and final rounds on succeeding Saturdays. There will be a handicap against par on July 20, in addition to the tournament, while on July 27 there will be mixed foursomes against par, three eights of combined handicaps being allowed, not to exceed 15 strokes. On August 3 there will be best ball foursomes against par.

BANK EXAMINERS' PROTEST

Convention Thinks Fees in Country Are Too Small.

URGES AMENDMENT OF LAW

Frank L. Norris Says Hasty Examination Is a Cause of Dishonesty.

A unanimous demand for an increase in the compensation granted by law to national bank examiners for their work in country banks was voiced yesterday at the convention of bank examiners, which was opened at the Brighton Beach Hotel.

The inadequacy of the fee allowed to the national examiner outside of the reserve cities was declared by the chair of the chief causes of inefficient examination. Having to pay his own expenses, the examiner, it was pointed out, had to hurry through his work unless he was willing to have his whole fee eaten up.

Frank L. Norris, national bank examiner and chairman of the Philadelphia district, who presided at the convention, brought this topic before the assembly, and his speech was heartily applauded by the seventy-five examiners present. George C. Van Tuyl, Jr., Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York, was among those who expressed themselves most emphatically for an increase in the fees.

The convention was attended by national bank examiners of the districts including the states of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia and the District of Columbia, the examiners of the State Banking Department and the examiners of the Clearing House.

In his speech Mr. Norris said that, while the national bank examiners in the reserve cities received a very satisfactory compensation, the examiners of country banks were badly underpaid. The fee system, he said, had been established by the law of 1856, and since that time conditions in banking had changed, to make the work of the examiner more difficult. The scramble for deposits, he explained, caused greater leniency to be shown to credits requiring a closer scrutiny by the examiner, in order to discover dangerous speculative underwritings and that "community of interests which is the parent of consolidated capital, from 'dummy' notes, which are quite likely to be its offspring, and from bonds which are not founded on intrinsic worth."

Mr. Norris then made a plea for an amendment to the national bank law to give more time and assistance to the country examiner, whose route is long and whose hours are arduous. In this way, he said, it would be possible to achieve the best results, and at the same time give the examiner a chance to earn a compensation that was a little more than the amount necessary to cover his hotel bills and traveling expenses.

"Pay the country examiner on the same satisfactory basis as the examiners in reserve cities," Mr. Norris said, "that is, an arbitrary tax on capital and a certain percentage of gross assets. This would be a long step toward making failures and successful dishonesty a thing of the past."

The need for action to secure an increased compensation was urged by National Examiners Colonel Ellis H. Pepper, of Long Island; Samuel M. Hann, of Baltimore; E. A. Southall, of Buffalo, and Edwin F. Reorbeck, of New York. Superintendent Van Tuyl and a number of state bank examiners joined in the support of the recommendation. It was decided to appoint a committee of three which will draw up resolutions on the matter and submit them to the Controller of the Currency.

The purpose of the convention is to form a national association which will embrace federal and state examiners. A committee of seven will be selected this morning to perfect the organization, and it is expected that within three months the seven hundred examiners of the country will join the association.

An exchange of experiences in the examination of banks and a discussion of various topics in that connection filled the afternoon session yesterday. The question of real estate loans received much attention and was discussed with much zeal.

Superintendent Van Tuyl created amusement by telling the examiners that many of the upstate savings banks had a great liking for loans on real estate in this city. There was a little graft in it, he said, because the trustees of the bank would come to the city to look at the property and after three days of "excitement" at luncheons and dinners the loan would be approved. But since a special department has been created to appraise the property on which savings banks lease mortgages, the trustees of the city, he added, to the "excitement" of the city, he added. The meeting will be continued this morning.

COOPERSTOWN WINS AT POLO

Beats Great Neck in Match for Hempstead Cups.

Probably the last tournament game on the field at Meadow Brook this season was played this evening, when the Cooperstown team took the Great Neck team into camp in the semi-finals for the Hempstead cups by a score of 14 goals to 3 1/2 for Great Neck.

While the Cooperstown four were much stronger in their line-up, their handicap was smaller than that of their opponents, who had to concede them three goals. The Great Neck four did not display their usual good team work, and were scattered about the side lines when they should have been in the mêlée.

Jones, who is a new player on Cooperstown, caught a pretty drive which Hadden was sending downfield in the third period. Rumsey then caught it and carried it down to a tally.

Both ponies and riders suffered intensely from the heat.

Idle Clerk Attempts Suicide in Central Park Ramble.

A pistol shot in the Central Park Ramble yesterday afternoon called two patrolmen to a well dressed young man, who lay unconscious with a bullet wound in his head and a revolver by his side. At the Presbyterian Hospital it was said there was little chance of recovery.

The wounded man regained consciousness long enough to say he was Frank Chase, a clerk, living at a Seventh avenue hotel. He had formerly worked in the Illinois Central Railroad office in New Orleans. He came here May 1 and had spent all his money except 10 cents. In his pockets were found two photographs of a young woman.

PIPING ROCK IN DEFEAT

Bryn Mawr Four Wins at Polo at Cedarhurst.

Two games of polo for the Independence cups were played on the field of the Rock-away Hunting Club at Cedarhurst, Long Island, yesterday. The first was between Bryn Mawr and the Piping Rock Wanderers, and resulted in a victory for Bryn Mawr by a score of 7 1/2 goals to 3 1/2 goals.

The semi-final game was between Meadow Brook 3d and Great Neck 2d. Stewart, of the Bryn Mawr team, scored four of the eight goals earned, making three of them after the ball was within a short distance of the enemy's goal posts. The summaries follow:

TREE NO MATCH FOR AUTO

Commissioner Stover Looking for Car Which Pierced Poplar.

Park Commissioner Stover is doing a Sherlock Holmes act in an effort to find out the owner of an automobile which caused the destruction of a beautiful North Carolina poplar at the northeast corner of Fifth avenue and 72d street. The only clue the Commissioner has is a cranking shaft, which had to be drawn out of the ten-inch tree trunk, through which it had been shoved by the force of the collision.

"There is no telling how the accident happened," said the Park Commissioner, as he examined the cranking shaft, which had been bent double by the force of the blow. "The car must have been going at a pretty good speed, though. I have a belief that the owner will show up before long. In fact, I received an anonymous communication asking for the tree as a souvenir, and the writer promised to disclose himself later on."

The tree was more than fifty feet high and stood near the curb. It was about twenty years old and was a perfect specimen, according to the Park Commissioner.

AUG. BELMONT ON STAND

Says Voting of Interborough Stock Was Legal.

THINKS SERVICES VALUABLE

Head of Banking House Tilts with Clarence H. Verner's Lawyer.

August Belmont proved an excellent witness for himself in the two hours he was on the stand yesterday in the suit brought by Clarence H. Verner, a banker, and the Continental Securities Company, Interborough stockholders, in an effort to force Mr. Belmont to turn back to the Interborough company $150,000 worth of its stock voted him in 1902 when
